

Neonatal screening program in Argentina: The method we use and a brief comparison between border countries

Iriarte Silvana

Hospital Peron de Avellaneda, Argentina

Abstract

As Neonatal screening is a powerful tool in primary health care, we consider exposing our national program with the focus on our legal framework as a way to show newborn's rights. The programs are not the same between countries so that it is offered a brief comparison between two border countries.

Biography

Iriarte Silvana is currently a fourth-year medical resident (neonatal unit) in Buenos Aires Argentina. She got a degree in Medicine from Universidad the Buenos Aires (UBA), at the age of 25 years. She has presented at two Congress of Medicine in Argentina about congenital diseases.

5th International conference on Pediatrics and Primary Healthcare | October 14 , 2021

Citation: Iriarte Silvana, Neonatal screening program in Argentina: The method we use and a brief comparison between border countries, Pediatrics Healthcare 2021, 5th International conference on Pediatrics and Primary Healthcare, October 14, 2021, 06.
