

PTSD evaluation and treatment

Dominique Szepielak
Dijon University
France

Abstract:

These last few years, terrorist attacks revived diagnostics and psychoterapeutics issues on PTSD.

From that a suitable evaluation and an accurate support taking account of psychologist sequels, somatics and socials, is required to avoid sur-traumatized victims.

In this context, a few years ago, we offered follow up programs, full and non harmful screenings in order to give support and to improve PTSD understanding.

Through this experience, blast victims contribute to specify the importance and the difference of PTSD pain.

This communication aims the diagnostic tool presentation and would like to share the PTSD different shapes.

Biography:

Dominique Szepielak Ph. D is working as a trauma clinical psychologist. He's CIO of Institut Horizons. He was head of psychology department in the French Association for Victims of terrorism. He is also engaged in employee assistant programs (EAP) for several companies and organizes psychotherapeutic programs for victims of terrorism in Europe. He worked at Versailles Hospital (consultations for traumatized and pain patients). He has served in French army and has assimilated field experience in différents units (submarine, Special Forces and psychological unit) partly in war situation. He gave lectures at Paris X Nanterre University and is currently giving lectures at Dijon University.

Presenting author details

Full name: Dominique Szepielak
Contact number: 33 6 11 21 61 68
Email: dpiala@yahoo.fr