

International Congress on GLOBAL HEALTHCARE

August 9, 2022 | Webinar

New Advances in Reconciliation Vessel's ResearchAdrian Angel InchauspeLa Plata National University, Argentina*

Analysing the properties of the Reconciliation Vessel, new questions raised about the origin of this wondrous circuit, as well as its configuration through the philosophical and cosmological basis of traditional Chinese medicine. Scrutinizing its location within Fu Hsi's Echogram and according to the Yellow Emperor's coincidences in Ling Shu and SuWen quotations, a plausible explanation raised up from a detailed methodological work embodied in this paper. Author's experience in cardiopulmonary revivals - through said new Wondrous Vessel and its complementary resuscitation maneuver over 35 years- takes to ponder his prospect of this situation and the possibility of more widespread recovery after terminal diagnosis.

Biography

Adrian Angel Inchauspe. Peer-reviewed of World Journal of Clinical Cases, Professor Adrian Angel Inchauspe obtained his MD in 1986 from La Plata National University (Argentina), where he remained as Professor of Surgery. Study abroad, at the Aachen and Tübingen Universities in Germany in 1991, led to his certification in laparoscopic surgery, and at the Louis Pasteur University in Strasbourg France, led to his being awarded the Argentine National Invention Award in 1998 for his graduate work in tele-surgery. He currently serves as teacher in the Argentine Acupuncture Society, as Invited Foreigner Professor at the China National Academy of Sciences and Hainan Medical University, and as editorial member and reviewer for many internationally renowned journals.